

1918 ROUND-UP TO BENEIT RED CROSS

Pendleton will stage her ninth annual Round-Up next month for the benefit of the Red Cross. The directors of the big frontier show offered to contribute the entire net proceeds to the Red Cross and the offer was accepted by the organization's representatives recently.

The ninth of Pendleton's famous dramas of the west will be held on September 19, 20 and 21 and, despite the fact that some of the famous cowboys and buckaroos have answered the call of their country and are now bulldozing the Hun somewhere in France, there will be competition aplenty for the prizes and trophies. The usual program of wild west sports will be presented but there will be added touches of the military and patriotic in keeping with the spirit of wartime.

No person has ever received a salary or dividend from the Round-Up but heretofore the profits of the show have been devoted to civic improvements in Pendleton. In these times, however, the directors decided that such improvements should give way to war enterprises, and made their offer accordingly.

GOVERNMENT WILL BUY OLD GOLD

Persons who have old gold or silver which they wish to convert into cash for war or other purposes are offered the opportunity by the government. Old gold and silver in quantities approximating $100 in value may be sent to the United States assay office in New York, or to any one of government assay offices in Philadelphia, Denver or San Francisco. The senders will receive in return a check on the United States treasury for the value of the material less the charges for fitting in for coinage. These charges are nominal. No institution under the government in Washington receives this material, as none has facilities for depositing or treating it. To societies raising funds for war relief the suggestion is made that individual collections of old gold and silver be gathered together in some central depository and when the necessary amount has been obtained that it be sent to the assay office in the nearest one of the four cities mentioned.

COMMEND SUNDAY FARM WORK

Judges in Tennessee have refused to punish persons accused of work on farms on Sundays, but have commended them for so doing. This was reported to the department of agriculture's recent farm labor conference in Birmingham, Ala. Not long ago the rural churches of Indiana, in a conference at Purdue University, took the position that it is quite right and proper to do farm work on Sunday if that Sunday work is necessary to produce crops to help whip Germany.

FOREST SERVICE FIGHTING FIRE

Every available man has been put on the fire lines by the forest service to watch for and fight forest fires. Early in the season the fire situation in the National forests in the west became threatening; fires occurred earlier than usual as the result of abnormally low rainfall and unprecedented heat and dry winds in the spring. The situation is considered worse than any since 1910 when fires caused about $20,000,000 damage and cost the lives of 78 employees of the forest service. An unusual number of dry electrical storms last spring were the cause of numerous fires, and labor shortage has combined with the bad natural conditions to increase the difficulties. In several instances soldiers have been used to assist the regular fire fighters. The plan now adopted is to have crews of five or more men established at central points, equipped for immediate action, and in direct communication with the fire outlooks. This makes it possible to use unskilled labor and men unfamiliar with the country. In spite of all difficulties the situation has not been allowed to get beyond control. Small relief from local rains is only temporary and the danger will not be removed until the regular fall rains set in.

FARM LABOR NEEDS ME!

In spite of the fact that approximately 25,000 experienced farm hands in Illinois have been inducted by the draft and many thousands more have either voluntarily enlisted or gone into competing industries, that state is producing its greatest food crop this year, and the farm labor needs have been and are being cared for. This is the report of Samuel Insull, chairman of the Illinois State Council of Defense to the United States Department of Agriculture. In it he expresses his appreciation for the department's cooperation in assisting in the recent farm labor campaign. The achievement in Illinois, Mr. Insull states, is due to the patriotic spirit of small-town people who responded so generously to the campaign.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR POULTRY RAISERS

Nine per cent fewer eggs were in hand on July 1, 1918, as compared to July 1, 1917, in the 462 cold-storage plants which recently made reports to the bureau of markets. The movement of eggs from storage for consumption purposes began nearly a month earlier this year than usual. This condition, according to poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, should be a special incentive to every poultry producer to work faithfully for good production in the early winter.

MORE SHEEP ON CUT-OVER LANDS

The utilization of cut-over lands in Michigan as grazing pasture for sheep is being investigated by the United States Department of Agriculture and F. R. Marshall of the Animal Husbandry Division is now on an inspection trip in the northern part of the state. Since this work started last spring a number of farmers have embarked in the sheep business and find cut-over lands valuable for grazing sheep. Several companies in this district have been interested in financing farmers in buying sheep.

The inspection service for shipments of fruits and vegetables started by the bureau of markets last year has been extended to cover 36 terminal markets and army training camps. The certificates issued by inspectors state the condition of shipments of fruits and vegetables as they arrive at market centers and are best used as a basis for settling any claims that may arise between shipper and consignee.

Summer Complaint

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."
